weasa{ WARSAW EURO-ATLANTIC SUMMER ACADEMY

	Monday July 9th	Tuesday July 10th	Wednesday July 11th	Thursday July 12th	Friday July 13th
Morning	Opening ceremony and first briefings This includes the opening ceremony and a brief introduction of the WEASA programme	The impact of disinformation Brian Whitmore Brian will look at the wider topic of Russian disinformation, and how it affects Western societies. He will conduct lectures and workshops	Digital forensics Christiaan Triebert Christiaan will conduct lectures and workshops that look into his work with Bellingcat (https://www.bellingcat.com) and beyond. He will explain how to use information found on social media and online to check facts, combat disinformation, and detect corruption	Disinformation: tales from the front Margo Gontar Margo will talk about her work at StopFake.org (https://www.stopfake.org/en/news/) and how best to detect and combat disinformation	Study trip NASK We'll look at Poland's academic and research networks and cybersecurity policy
Afternoon				Soft skills workshops We look at: - Social media - Debating and public speaking - Negotiations - Startups/ ideas lab	Soft skills workshops, continued
Evening	Fireside chat Harald Gruber A fireside chat with the Head of Digital Economy and Innovation at the European Investment Bank (EIB)	Networking dinner A formal dinner with assigned seats, to allow people to get to know each other a little better	Fulbright networking A group of US-based academics are visiting Poland as part of a Fulbright scheme. We will organise a networking dinner to mark this occasion

POLISH-AMERICAN FREEDOM FOUNDATION

FUNDACJA LIDERZY PRZEMIAN

G|M|F The German Marshall Fund of the United States
STRENGTHENING TRANSATLANTIC COOPERATION

College of Europe / Collège d'Europe — Brugge / Natolin

FULBRIGHT POLSKA

weasa{ WARSAW EURO-ATLANTIC SUMMER ACADEMY

	Monday July 16th	Tuesday July 17th	Wednesday July 18th	Thursday July 19th	Friday July 20th
Morning	Journalism in a digital era Edward Lucas	Bots and trolls Laura Rosenberger	Social media: who's in charge? Jillian C. York	Personal cyber- and information security tbc	Presenting and discussing participants' work and contributions
Afternoon	Edward Lucas, a veteran journalist and Senior Vice President at the CEPA think tank, will talk about the future of journalism in a digital age, as well as modern information warfare	Laura Rosenberg currently heads the Hamilton 68 project (http://dashboard.securingdemocracy.org/) - a comprehensive attempt to analyse messages spread by Russian bots in the US. She will talk about the project and wider topics related to disinformation	Jillian is the head of free expression at the Electronic Frontier Foundation, a US-based NGO that deals with digital rights. She will talk about how content is moderated on social media, what control American internet giants have over our discourse, and the like	This workshop will teach participants how to secure their own devices, communication, and information	Closing ceremony
Evening		Fireside chat Mateusz Halawa Mateusz Halawa will talk about the (often unintended) political consequences of our technological and design choices	AI lounge The AI lounge would allow participants to play with content generated by machine learning algorithms		